DR. SEARS ON MILITARY SCHOOLS.
At a meeting of the Educational Department of the American Social Science Association in Boston, on Wednesday, Rev. Dr. Sears, President of Brown University, made an address on military education. He quoted a remark of Gen. Grant that, instead of fifty graduates from West Point, three hundred officers are annually needed to supply the wants of the army; and opposed the plan proposed to establish a number of Military Academies, because exclusive military training does not qualify officers for the mixed duties for which they are often detailed; and during their course study the young men are excluded from social life. A broader culture is demanded and one that will inspire a sense of justice towards the humbler classes. This point was illustrated by the late Indian massacres and the demand for suitable officers to command the Southern departments created by the Reconstruction Law.

Dr. Sears favored the bill now before Congress to establish military departments in the various cities and appoint a graduate of West Point to each, who shall give military instruction and, at the same time, pursue a course of collegiate study, which would be of incalculable advantage, especially in view of the deleterious influence of frontier life on the character of young officers.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

JANUARY SESSION--AT PROVIDENCE.

WEDNESDAY, March 13.

Senate.

The Senate met at half-past ten o'clock, His Excellency the Governor in the chair.

The Governor announced to the committee on the liquor law, Messrs. Church of North Kingstown, Cook and Smith.

Mr. Stevens moved to reconsider the vote passing the act relative to allowing the Commissioner of Public Schools his travelling expenses, not to exceed $300: and the vote was reconsidered.

The merits of the bill were discussed by Messrs. Stevens, Smith, Correy, Grosvenor, Hazard, Anthony and King, on a motion of Mr. Carey, to fix the sum at $300 without any limitation. The amendment was adopted, and the act was passed amended.

Sundry petitions asking for a prohibitory liquor law, which had been referred to the committee on the Judiciary, were reported back and sent to the House.

Concurred in the action of the House allowing the bill of E. S. Babcock, Jailer of Washington County.

Mr. Peckham moved that the record of the vote of adjournment be corrected, which was carried.

The bill to prevent abortion and punish the same was taken up and concurred in with an amendment.

The special order, bill prescribing the salaries of the Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, also a resolution allowing Judge Haynes the sum of $2000 extra services during the illness of the late Chief Justice Ames, was taken up. The bill was from the House, and with the Committee on Finance recommended that the Senate should not concur. The resolution was introduced by the committee, who recommended its passage.

Mr. Greenway spoke against an increase of the salaries of the judges. He thought the salaries now fully competent to secure the necessary talent and we were now tending to lower prices which soon will approximate to the old scale.

Mr. Hazard was in favor of liberal salaries. The judiciary was the safeguard of rights of person and property, and stood the barrier to repel an influx of barbarism. We should pay such salaries as will command an independent and learned judiciary.

Mr. Carey advocated a concurrence with the House.

Mr. Anthony opposed a concurrence. He said if a man had an investment of $50,000 in Rhode Island bonds, which would yield $3000, he would be considered well off, and but few in the community could be found who would not live well and save something on such a testimony. But few men are so fortunate. He did not think it advisable to advance the salaries to this point so much above the incomes of the mass of the people.

His Honor the Lieutenant Governor advocated a concurrence. The only question he conceived pertinent to the question was, whether the salary was sufficient for the office, and even as world command men of experience and integrity, Every thing else was extraneous.

The subject was postponed till Thursday at half-past eleven o'clock.

Sundry occurrences was received from the committee on the Judiciary.

The act relative to the assessment and collection of taxes in School District No. 7, Jamestown, came from the House amended, and the amendment was concurred in.

The act from the House amending Chapter 503 of the Revised Statutes was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

The act from the House, relative to the Attorney General, a substitute for the Senate bill, was referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

The act to incorporate the Paper Tube Company, from the House, was confined in concurrence.

Concurred in the resolution to pay the account of E. S. Babcock, Jailer of Washington County.

Resolution from the House permitting Hannah Wellman to sell real estate, was referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Resolution from the House to increase the salaries of the Justices of the Court of Magistrates, was referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Resolution from the House continuing the Joint Special Committee on the State Prison, to continue their investigation, was concurred in.

An act from the House, permitting a change of road in Hopkinton, was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Concurred in the passage of a resolution concerning the act altering the charter of the Woonsocket Railroad to the May session.

Resolution relative to the alteration and repair of the State House in Providence was concurred in.

An act from the House relative to bonds of two sergeants and constables, was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Resolution from the House returning thanks to some military officers, was, by general consent, referred to the table.

An act from the House, repealing Chapter 441 of the Revised Statutes—the hoger act—was read and referred to the special committee.

The act relative to miscreants or masked balls, was taken from the table, and after discussion was recommended to the committee on the Judiciary to incorporate a suggested amendment.

Resolution from the House to pay bill of Geo. Copeland, was concurred in.

An act from the House in amendment of Chapter 145 of the Revised Statutes—Of the Supreme Court; was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

Mr. King offered a resolution authorizing the committee on the northern boundary of the State, to report at the next May session; which was passed.

Adjourned to Thursday at half-past ten o'clock.

factories as soon as they are able to earn wages, compelling their children often to support them, while spending their time in idleness and dissipation. We have known some fathers who have spent for drink more than enough to support their families, while their children of tender age were kept at work "in the mill," and their wages taken to "pay the rest." The only education these children were ever likely to get was such as might be obtained amid the clattering of machinery or in the corrupt atmosphere of a low social and domestic morality. It becomes necessary, therefore, that the State should interpose and by the exercise of legislative power, protect the children of the Commonwealth from the consequences of parental indifference and neglect. Why the committee should have named ten hours and twenty minutes as a day's work, for children, does not seem perfectly clear. We see no necessity for the fractional hour and it gives us air of littleness to the bill which is decidedly objectionable. We hope it will be amended in this particular.

It is a wise provision to commit to the State constables the duty of seeing that the provisions of the bill are properly enforced. No law of this character will ever be enforced if committed to the local authorities or the parents of the children, or to the citizens at large. The local authorities of Lawrence or Lowell would seldom interfere with the internal regulations of the great corporations unless in extreme cases, and parents would not do so, especially those whose pecuniary interests seemed to require the continuance of their children in the mill. It needs, therefore, a class of officers who are in a great measure independent of local influences. It is by a method similar to this that the English laws relating to hours of labor are enforced.

Local Intelligence.

Louisville Improvement.—A much needed work is being done at the Lime Rock Light-house. A wharf, fifty feet long by eight feet wide at the top, is being constructed of material taken from the rock on which the light-house and keeper's dwelling are built, for the convenience of landing. There will be cranes for two boats on the wharf. This is an improvement which has long been needed, as there has been no suitable place to land or secure a boat.

Did our readers witness the glorious sunset scene of last evening? No production of art ever approached the splendor of tint that were displayed on a small cloud just above the western horizon a few moments after the sun had gone down. Why seek foreign skies or e'er Italian sunsets when such gorgeous scenes can be witnessed from our own windows?

A New Steamboat.—The Providence Journal learns that the American Steamboat Company are building in New York a large and powerful sidewheeler steamer, with an engine of thirty-two inch cylinder, intended for towing on the river, or out-side and in Long Island Sound, for general wrecking purposes, when necessary, and she will also be fitted up in good style for the excursion business during the summer months. She will doubtless be a well built and desirable craft.

Thanks.—We hereby tender our thanks to the Providence Press for the courteous manner in which it replies to our inquiry: Where are they?

MARINE INTELLIGENCE.—British brig Brill arrived here last night from Shields, England with a load of coal for the Newport Gas Company. She had a rough passage of more than four months, during which she put into Barbadoes; on the passage from whence she lost her main topgallant mast.

Military.—The Light Infantry is to hold a meeting to arrange for performing funeral escort. See orders from headquarters in our advertising columns.

Democratic Convention.—The Democratic State Convention for the nomination of candidates for Governor and other State Officers assembled in the Armory of the Marine Artillery, Providence, at 11 o'clock, yesterday forenoon.

The Convention was called to order by Gideon Bradford, of Cranston, of the Democratic State Central Committee, and Capt. George H. Ellis, of East Providence and Nathan T. Veity of Woodstock were chosen temporary Secretaries.

Ninety delegates were present, nine places not being represented.

Hon. Henry Butler of Warwick was chosen President, and the temporary Secretaries were chosen permanent ones.

After a discussion as to the policy of reporting any resolutions, in which one gentleman thought they had passed too many for the good of the party, a committee upon that subject was appointed and retired.

On motion of Alfred Allen of Smithfield, Hon. Lyman Pierce of Providence was nominated by acclamation as the candidate for Governor.

The following candidates for the other State Officers were nominated:

Lieut. Governor—Gideon B. Durfee of Tiverton.

General Treasurer—James Atkinson of Newport.

Secretary of State—Wm. J. Miller of Bristol.

Attorney General—Geo. N. Bliss of East Providence.

A committee on Resolutions reported the following, which were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That frequent innovations upon our laws are pernicious, as tending to confuse the minds of the people and destroy that reverence for legal authority which is essential to the permanency of the State and the safety of the citizen.

Resolved, That we regard the Judiciary as the shield of the people against the usurpation or arbitrary acts of popular or official passion, and that any attempt to weaken or override the authority of our Courts, or to detract from their dignity, imperils the very existence of the Republic.

Resolved, That after an exhausting war our whole energy should be turned to the development of our internal resources and to the increase of our commerce; that our system of taxation ought to be so adjusted as to bear equally upon all classes of the community and all sections of the country, to necessitate the least expense in collection, and relieve as rapidly as possible the burden of debt; that our laws ought to be framed as to require the smallest possible number of officials in their execution, since a multiplicity of offices begets arrogance and corruption in the holders and disconcerts the people who are unwillingly lashed into money and the leeches of the body-politic, which should go to nourish the body itself.

Resolved, That the Democratic party, having spent much of its blood in a struggle to preserve the Union, will watch with anxiety and labor pitifully for the same grand end to the present not less terrible, though bloodless, contest. We believe it to be the duty of all people, in all sections of the Republic, to accept the circumstances which have resulted from war; to endeavor by all means consistent with honor to adapt themselves to the new status thus created, and to conform to it both in legislation and in personal and official regard for each other. As to political supremacy we are content to await the hour when the fury of passion gives place to the temperance of reason, and the bitterness of hate let loose in the lapse of time.

A State Central Committee was appointed, of which the following gentlemen of Newport City are members: E. F. Norton, Lorenzo D. Tall, Gideon B. Durfee, John A. Hazard.

The Congressional Convention for the Eastern District referred the subject of the nomination of candidates to a committee, to report at a future time. In the Western District, Hon. Henry Bell was nominated.

At Unfortunate Town.—The town of Maryville, Kansas, was recently captured by a gang of male drivers. They escaped in the centre of the town and made the round of the saloons. When the citizens went to bed, they were sprawling on the streets, very drunk and noisy, but no trouble was expected. In a short time, however, a little boy gave the alarm that "the drivers were breaking into Mr. Strain's bakery, and had almost killed an old man—Mr. Bartholomew—and pulled Mrs. Strain by her hair from her house into the back yard." A few moments afterwards Bartholomew was heard in an opposite quarter of the town, and cries of "murder!" Six citizens hurried to the spot and found that the same number of drivers had taken possession of the house of a widow lady. The robbers were finally arrested.

Heavy Failure in Providence.—The firm of Gray Tast & Co. have made an assignment. Orson Tast, the senior, died some time since, leaving a property valued at one and a half million of dollars. The less, less of manufacturing cotton goods, has been re-continued in the same firm name by Edward P. and Cyrus Tast, who are reported to have speculated largely in print cloths and other goods. They have also commenced the erection of a large cotton mill and horses for occupation of operatives, at Weymouth, above Norwichtown, Ct. Their facilities are said to be one and a half million of dollars.

Resolutions of thanks.—were yesterday passed concurrently by the Senate of this State to the persons referred to in the subjunctive remarks from the Providence Journal:

The officers, whose names are embraced in this resolution, are all Rhode Island men, in whom the State feels justly proud. Generals Casey and Arnold are in the regular army, and heroes whose names were not so often brought to our notice—General George S. Greene was keeping guard with the army at the West, and only those in Rhode Island who knew him personally, kept him during our contest with the rebels.

His gallant son, a lieutenant in the navy, carried the little Monitor safely through the fierce-fought battle with the rebel Merrimac, after the Captain became disabled.

On Wednesday evening about nine o'clock, a sojourning boy about a week old, was left at the door of Mr. Peleg W. Gardiner in Providence.

It was well clad and had the appearance of having been born in the midst of domestic comfort.

Having been taken to the Central Police Station, Sergeant Perry gave it the name of Thomas G. Handy and sent it to the Dector Asylum.

The New York Herald says the Emperor Napoleon is negotiating with persons in this country for the laying of an Atlantic cable from Brest to New York.

The winter has been as unprecedentedly cold in New Orleans, that some of the rebel wagons that section charge that the northern rebels had the climate while they had possession of the city.

The Pelegians of Worcester held a meeting Tuesday evening to raise funds for fitting out an expedition with three thousand men and ten thousand stand of arms. It was well attended, enthusiastic, and the contributions liberal.

The London Engineer does not think the Atlantic cables will be serviceable much longer. It says: "How long the Atlantic cables will last before an accident occurs, is a matter of some speculation. We shall be astonished if two years pass without an interruption."

Judge—In walking from the Tombs to the City Hall the other day, had a great stone thrown at his head; but from the circumstance of his stooping very much, it passed over him. "You see," said he, "had I been an upright judge I might have been killed."

A servant girl in Berlin fell against a red-hot stove and burned on her arm the date 1859, which was on the stove. The physician who was called to minister to her looked at the date branded on her arm, and shaking his head, withdrew, remarking that for so old an injury there was no cure.

A young lady attending Sunday school service at the jail in Bridgeport, Ct., taking a seat near the door of one of the cells where a large bass hook protruded from the mason work and impaled her back head, brought her water泠, suspending in sad contract with said hook. Happening that somersaulted prisoner had thrust his hand through the bars and seized her, she became terribly frightened, and soon after scream followed each other in quick succession, which brought a number of gentlemen to the rescue. "Take my life but spare my water泠."

The King of Persia once ordered his vizier to make up a list of all the fools in his dominion.

He did so, and put his Majesty's name at the head of them. The King asked him why, to which he immediately answered: "Because you entrusted a lot of rascals to me you don't know to buy horses for you a thousand miles off and who'll never come back?" "Ay, but suppose they come back?" "Then I shall erase your name and insert theirs."

THE PRESIDENT IN TENNESSEE.—The flood in Tennessee is disastrous. It is estimated that the damage in East Tennessee alone will reach two million dollars. The county bridge built by General Burnside during the siege of Knoxville was washed away. The towns along the Holston and Tennessee rivers all suffered severely. Dandridge, Lenoir, Loudon and Kingston were all partly submerged. Whole houses were swept down the river, filled with household food and supplies. The farmers living near the French Broad and Holston rivers lost everything they had. Houses, barns and fences were washed away, and the stock all drowned. Great numbers of wealthy farmers are left with nothing but their bare lands, with crops all washed out or thickly covered with sediment. One farmer living on an island in the French Broad had his houses and barns washed away, his corn and cattle swept off, and all his stock, save two horses, drowned. He started his family off in a boat, and they are left perfectly destitute.
